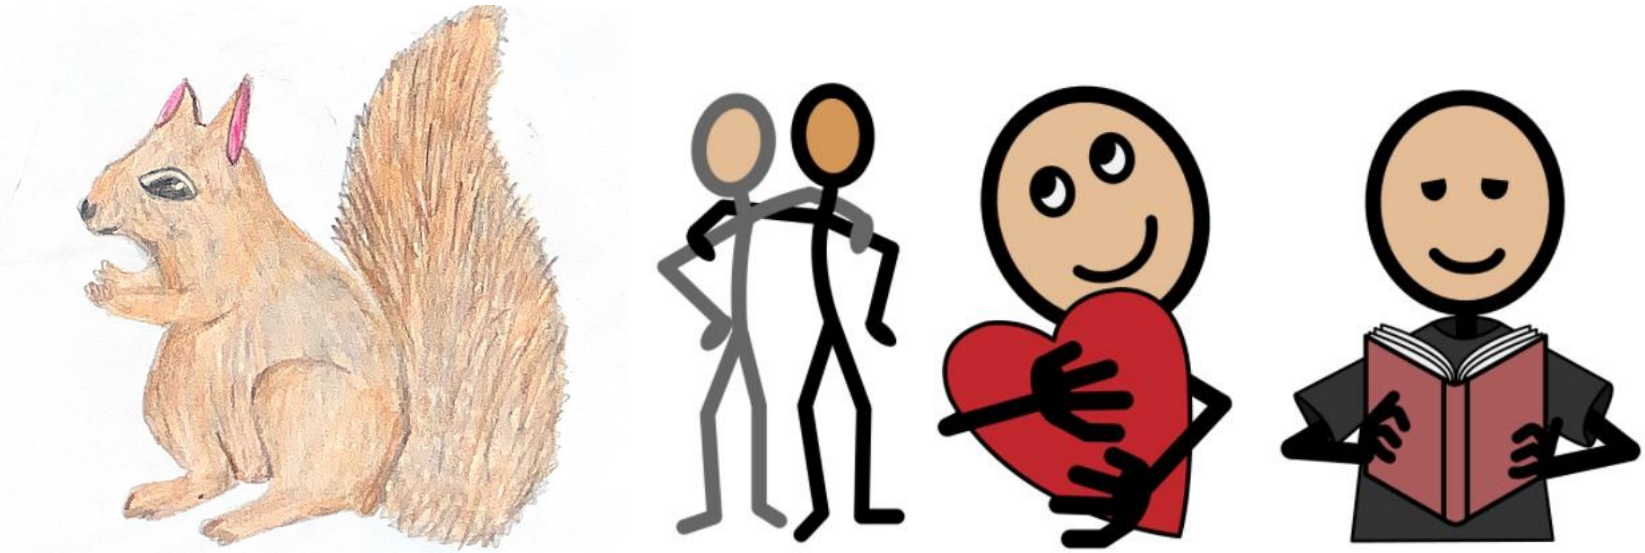
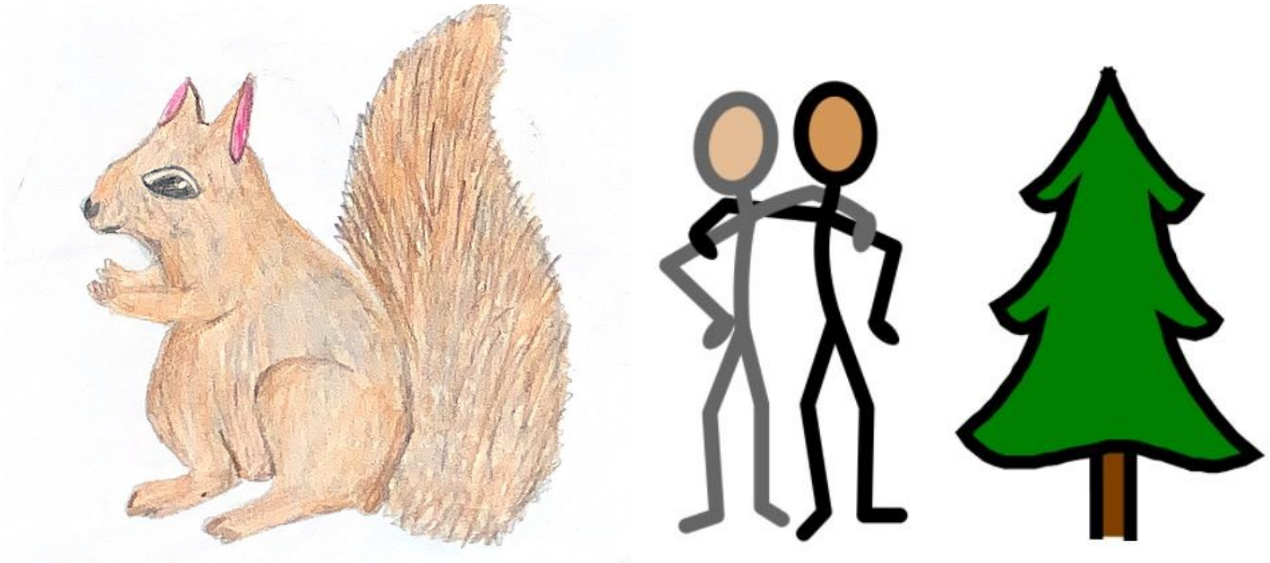
Selina Squirrel celebrates World Book Day

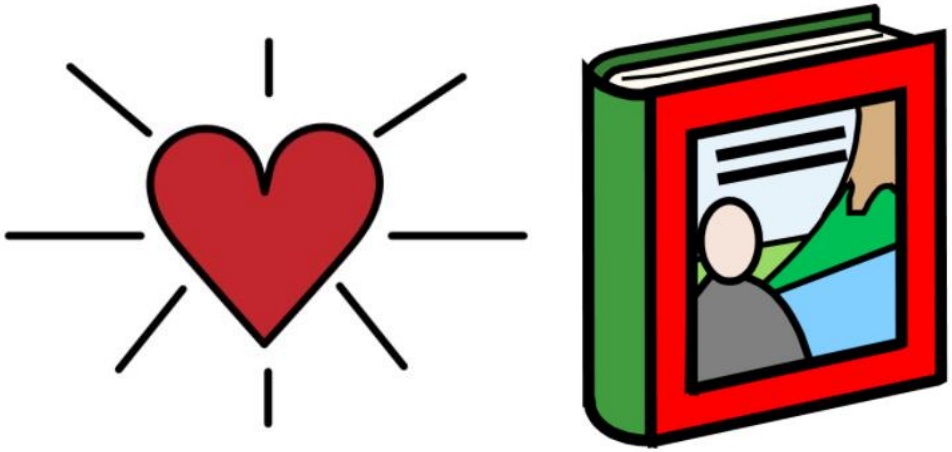


Selina Squirrel and her friends like to read

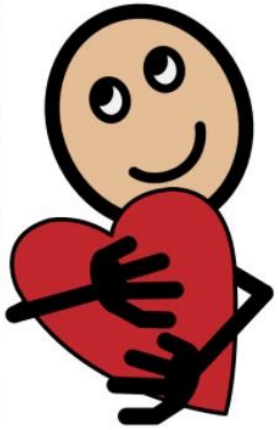
On 3 March 2022 it is World Book Day

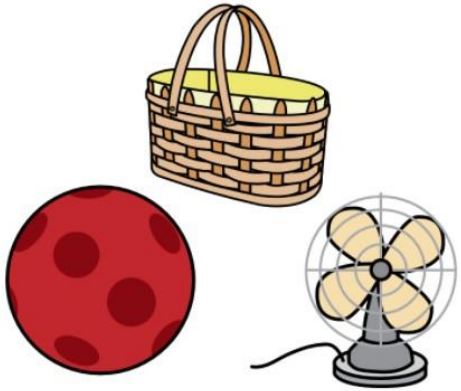


Selina and her friends all went to their favourite meeting place at the big fir tree.



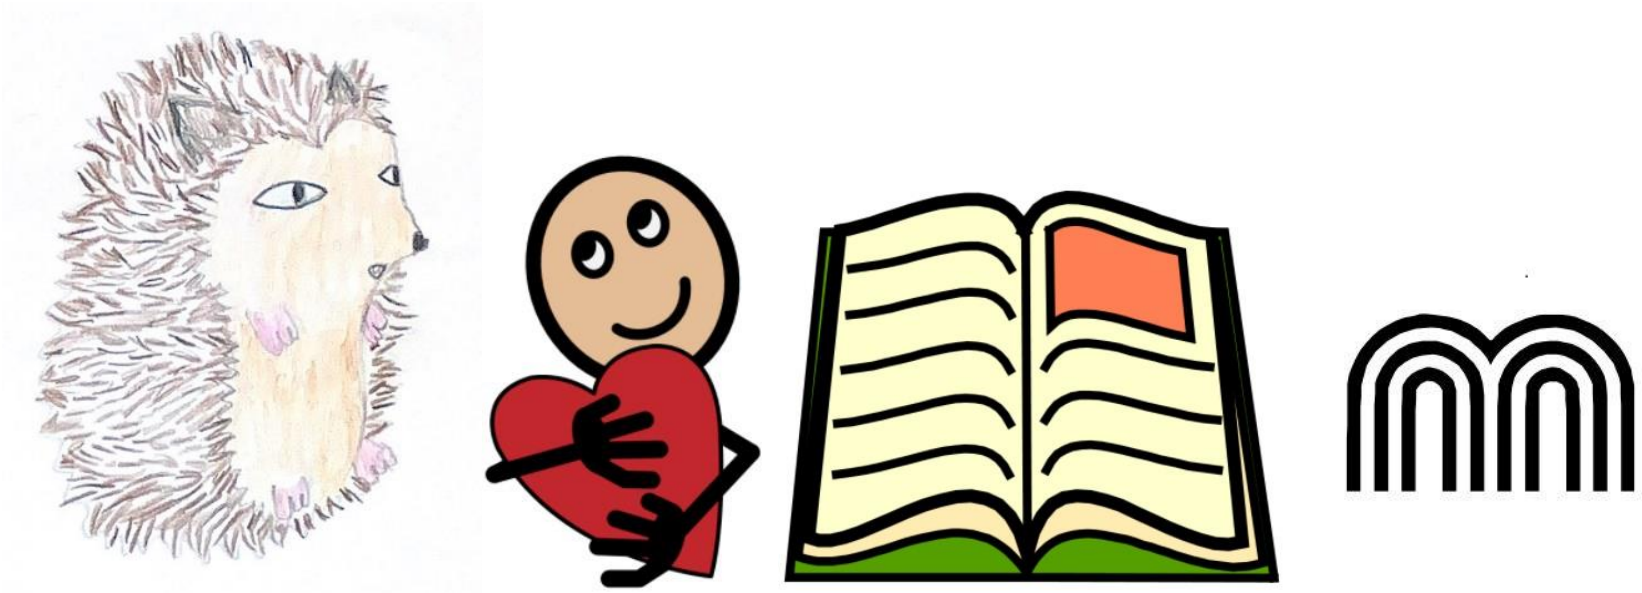
They have brought along their favourite book they like reading.



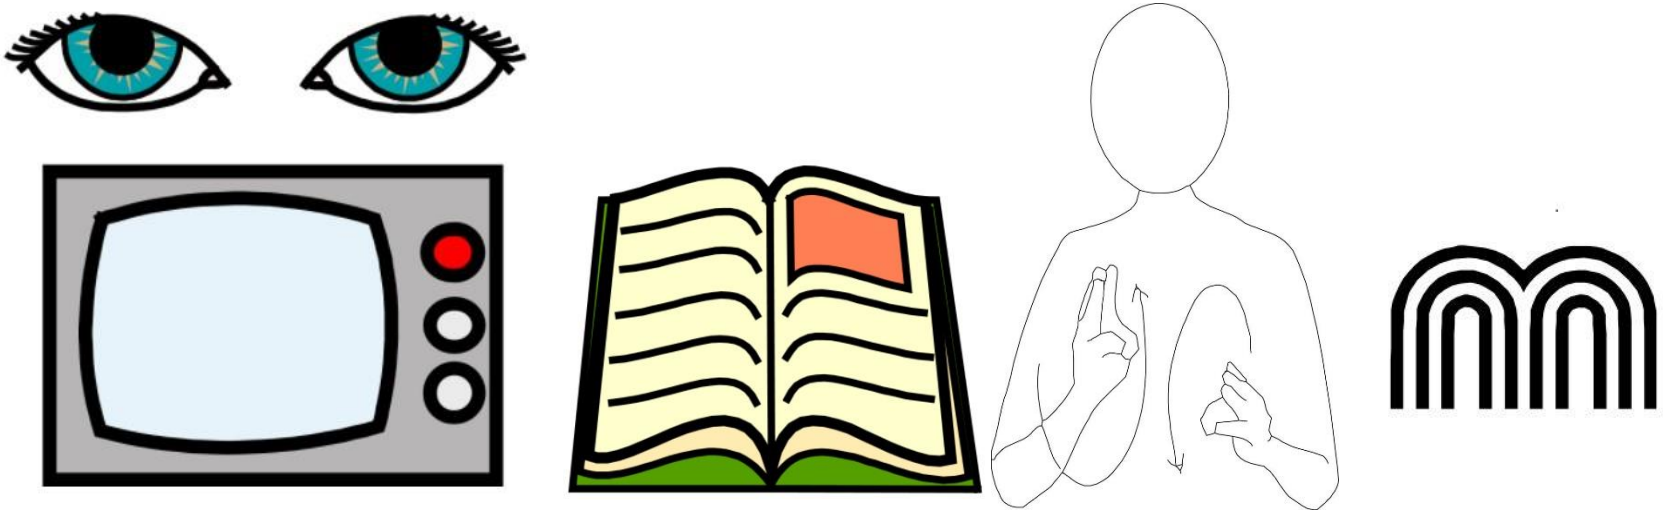


Selina Squirrel likes sensory stories with objects that reminds her what is happening in the story.

She likes to touch, feel and smell the objects. Like feeling the leaves or smelling the pine cones.



Henrietta Hedgehog likes books that have Makaton signs.



Watching videos with stories signed in Makaton.

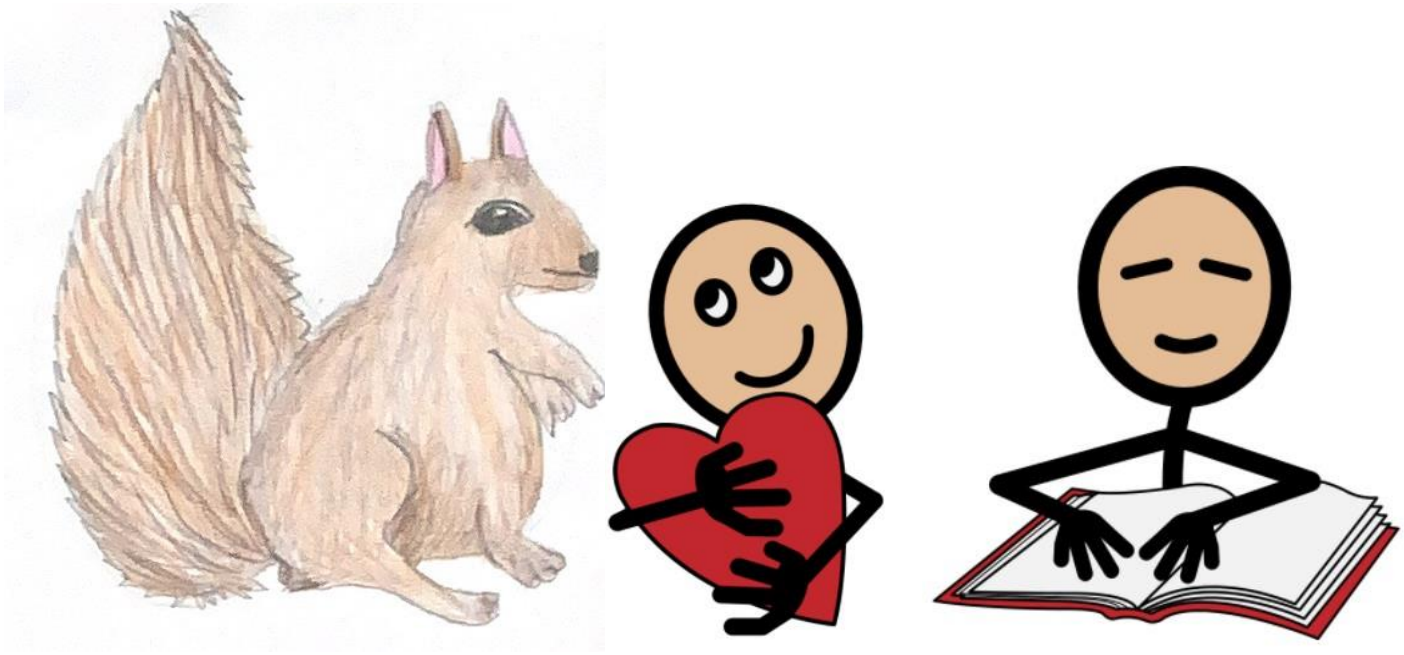
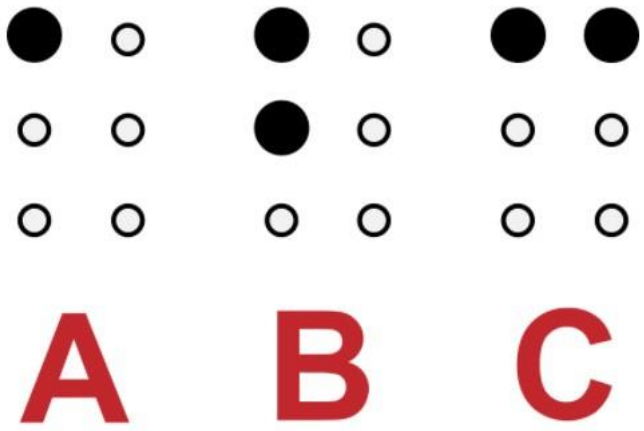
Henrietta Hedgehog showed everyone how to sign book in Makaton

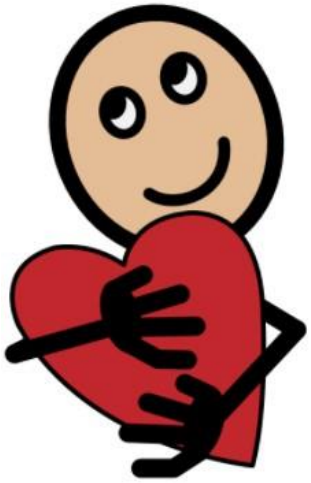


Tommy Squirrel likes tactile books. He likes books that have braille printed on them.

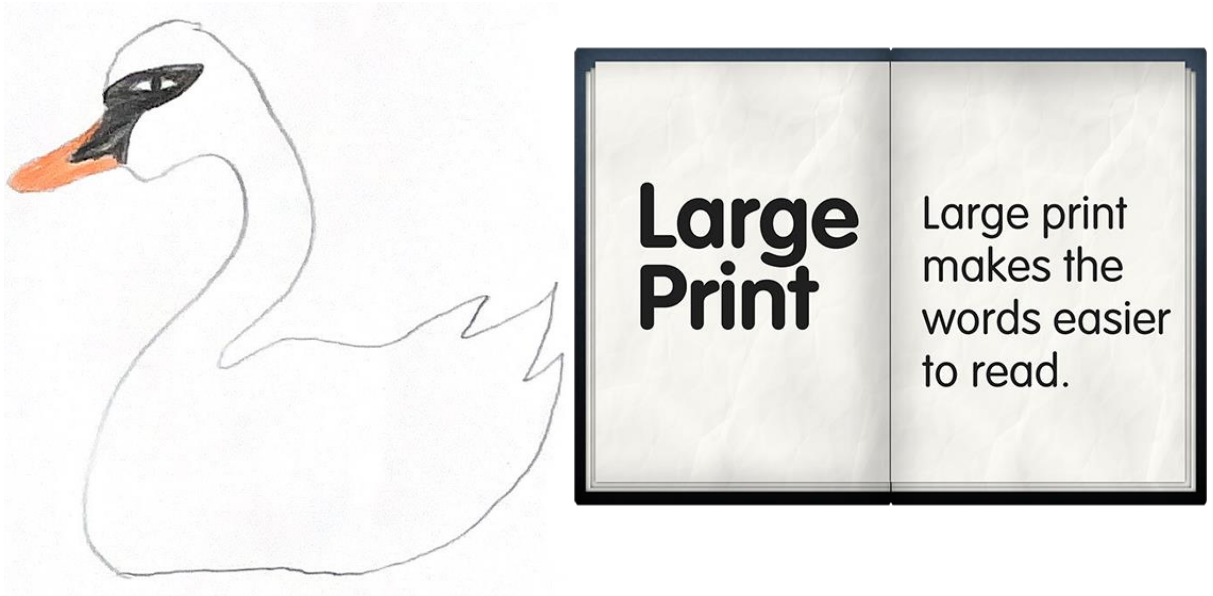


Braille is a tactile writing system that uses 6 raised dots printed on embossed paper.

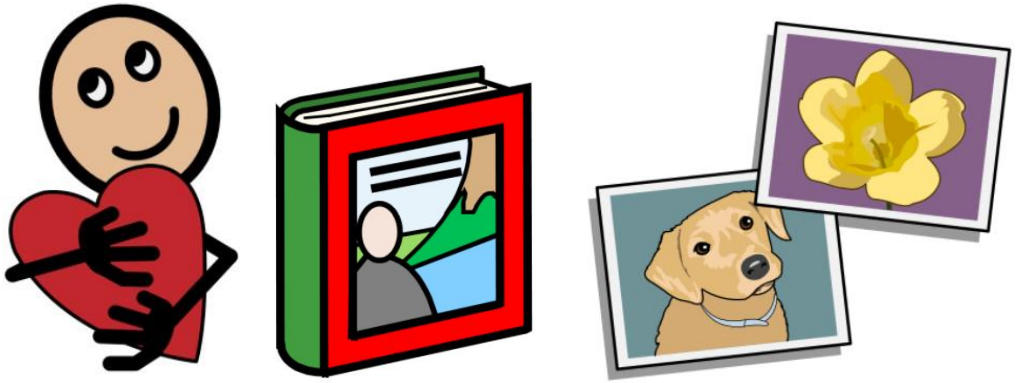
This helps Tommy to read the story.



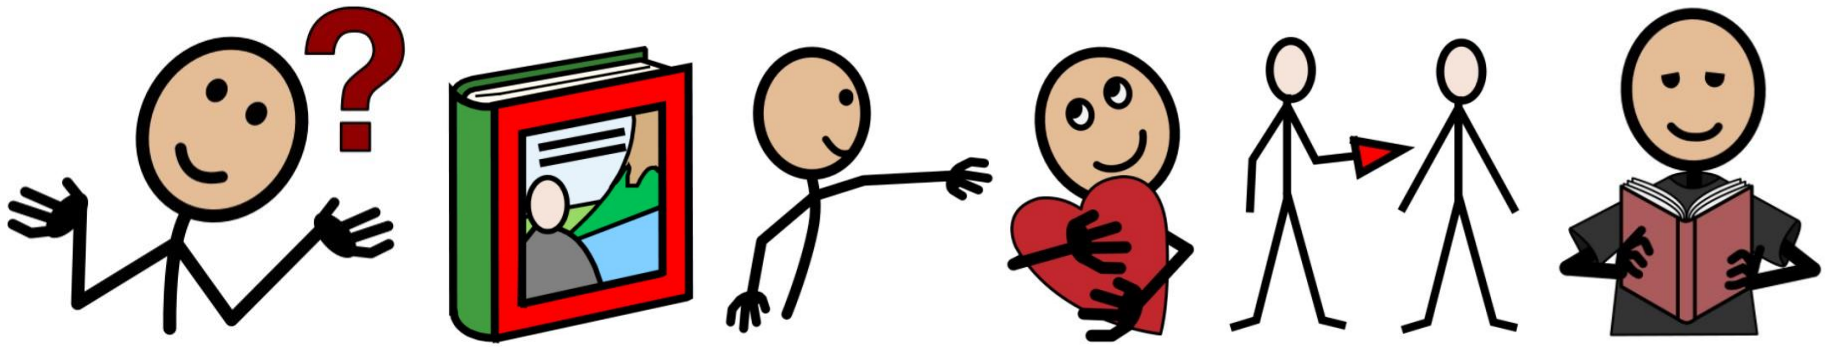
Polly Pigeon likes to listen to audio books. These are books where she can listen to someone telling the story.



Susie Swan likes to read books written in large print which makes the words easier to read.



Molly Mouse, Oliver Owl, Robbie Robin and Stevie Seagull all like books that have lots of pictures in them.



What sort of books do you like reading? Everybody can be a reader.

Celebrate World Book Day by reading your favourite book.
